

TOP 5 TRAVEL INSIGHTS

Fiji Is cheaper than Hawaii to explore!

FIJI

1 ISLAND FLAVORS FOR LESS

STREET FOOD, LOCAL MARKETS, CAFES

FIJI: $2-$12

HAWAII: $15-$25

Eat all you want!

Flavorful Indian inspired dishes like curries, roti, and biryani combine with Polynesian flavor; travelers can enjoy delicious meals that are rich in flavor and easy on the budget.

2 LUXURY FOR LESS

ENTRY 5-STAR ACCOMMODATIONS

FIJI: $350-$600 NIGHT

HAWAII: $600-1000 NIGHT

Treat Yourself

Dreaming of waking up steps from the ocean? Fiji offers everything from cozy beachfront stays to ultra luxury private island resorts, often less than similar accommodations in Hawaii.

3

ADVENTURE FOR LESS

DOUBLE YOUR ADVENTURE BUDGET

FIJI: $65 AVG PER ADVENTURE

HAWAII: $135 AVG PER ADVENTURE

Your adventure awaits!

Fiji offers white water rafting, bamboo rafting, EcoTrax adventures, village visits, in addition, to what Hawaii offers... island hopping, beaches, snorkeling, and zip-lining, ocean tours.

4

CULTURE FOR LESS

CULTURAL ENTERTAINMENT FOR LESS

FIJI MEKA / LOVO FEAST: $0-$75

HAWAII LUAU: $150+

Feel the rhythm

Meke is a vibrant storytelling dance told through rhythmic chants, while the Lovo is a delicious feast slow-cooked in a traditional underground earth oven. Because Fiji has lower operating costs and a less commercialized tourism market, you get an intimate, rich cultural experience without the premium US resort price tag.

5 IMMERSIVE EXPERIENCE PRICELESS (ALMOST)

DOUBLE YOUR ADVENTURE BUDGET

FIJI LOCAL VILLAGE SEVUSEVU: $15

HAWAII POLYNESIAN CULTURAL CENTER: $104+

A close-up photograph showing a person's hands pouring a thick, light-colored liquid (kava) from a wooden bowl into another wooden bowl. The liquid is being poured from a small opening in the top of the bowl. The background is dark and out of focus, showing more of the person and the setting. The lighting is warm and focused on the liquid and the hands.

Fall in love with Fiji

Fiji invites YOU into a real, living community by simply gifting raw bundles of kava root to a village chief authentically welcoming you to sit with local elders and an honored guest at thier village ceremony called a sevusevu.
